

What about GOD!

GOD is wanting you to reconcile with HIM. He wants you to have everything what your heart desires. Of course there will be arranging and rearranging. For the place you wanna be is home and home is where your heart is, your heart is where GOD is and GOD is where your home always was and always will be. You need to allow yourself to be where you, are not afraid anymore, where you can be yourself with all the differences inside of you and feel indifferent about the choices what others make for you. With GOD's permission you will know that everything will be okay in the end. No control, no loose ends, no more sleepless nights of hesitation, no more doubts, no more fear, no more illusion. For when the time will come when GOD calls you be sure to answer that call. For GOD is not only inviting you in HIS house but HE is gifting you also a home. A home with family much like brethren, who are the same as you in their hearts and minds.

You will not be able to resist the outcome of what god is presenting you, on a silver platter, after doing damage and hurting your own heart and mind. No loose ends means everything is taken care of behind the scenes. The same scene what is not visible at first. An unknown territory on uncharted waters. The fear of letting change in by opening the door what GOD is already showing you. But you must understand the scenery. Is the the landscape zoomed in or zoomed out, are you seeing every detail with the movement of your eyes? Are you conscious about your environment and are you willing to change as the weather changes and are you going where the wind will blow you. Or are you missing the point, are you not seeing the breadcrumbs what GOD is putting on your path of showing you the way to HIM.

GOD is pushing you and whispering in your ear for a warm welcome in HIS house for you to call HOME. A destination maybe unknown at first but a journey to never forget. Are you forgotten who GOD is because when you have than you have forgotten who you are. Most of mankind is still in the process of remembering or still being kept in the dark about the person who they are from inside out. You might have forgotten but you cannot ignore the signs. GOD is wanting you to stay in movement otherwise you will never reach HIM. You will never reach your destination and you will never know home. Just like E.T. is calling home and saying E.T. phone home because he wanna go home. All the while the phone was already ringing, the ringing in your ear what you are hearing is the sound of GOD calling you. You need to be made conscious about how GOD is connecting with you even when you have forgotten, even when you are not constant high peep tone when you have found silence in your mind

Before aggression pull yourself together and keep grounding yourself until you have found GOD with knowledge. Seeing and understanding the patterns will blow your mind every single time. Adjust yourself and make up your mind to stay with GOD 24/7. When a storm is brewing mind your every step and stay there and ask GOD what to do until you are made strong enough to handle GOD and people. GOD will not give you more than you can handle.
